ACHIEVED IT.—Gilblet's children inherited his money, but they buried the deposition and every other memorial of their father in his grave. Fired with a noble thirst for style, they instantly emerged from the retired lane in which themselves and their accomplishments had been buried; and they blazed and they whizzed, and they cracked about town like a nest of squibs and devils in a firework.

And the Giblets arrayed themselves in scarlet and in fine linen, and seated themselves in high places, but nobody noticed them except to honor them with a little contempt. The Giblets made a prodigious splash, in their own opinion, but nobody extolled them except the tailors and milliners who had been employed in manufacturing their paraphernalia.

The Giblets, thereupon, being like Caleb Quotem, determined to have a "place at the review," fell to work more fiercely than ever; they gave dinners, and they gave balls; they hired cooks, they hired confectioners; and they would have kept a newspaper in pay had not all of them been bought up at that particular time for the election. They invited the dancing men and the dancing women, and the gormandizers and the epicures of the city to come and make merry at their expense, and the dancing men and the dancing women, and the epicures, and the gormandizers did come; and they did make merry at their expense; and they are and they drank, and they capered and they danced, and they—laughed at their entertainers. .

Then commenced the hurry and the bustle and the mighty nothingness of fashionable life. Such rattling in coaches! such flaunting in the streets! such slamming of box doors at the theatre? such a tempest and bustle of unmeaning noise-wherever they appeared! The Giblets were seen here and there and everywhere they visited everybody they did not know; and there was no getting along for the Giblets. Their plan at length succeeded. By diot of dinners, of feeding and frolicking the town, the Giblet family worked themselves into notice, and enjoyed the ineffable pleasure of being for ever pestered by visitors who cared nothing about them; of being squeezed and smothered halls and evening teaparties, they were allowed the pleasure of forgetting the very few old friends they once possessed-they turned their noses up in the wind at everything that was not genteel; and their superb manners and sublime affectation at length left it no longer a matter of doubt that the Giblets were perfectly in the "style."

DEATH OF THE PARISIAN ELEPHANTS. - The splendid specimens of elephants, under the names of Castor and Pollax, of European renown, fell victims to the mightiest of all connown, fell victims to the mightiest of all conquerors hunger. The Parisians, though not too fastidious to feed on rats, were compelled by it to spriffice their giant pets. Their death was fraght. Enlar died from Devisime's explosive half, fifteen centimetres long, of cylindried chapte, with conic end which on its steel point had a capsule fastened containing eighty gramms of fine powder, weighing two hundred and eight gramms. A charge of eight gramms of pawder as required to throw the projectile.
The shot, fired from ten meters distance pierced the right shoulder, shattered the first rib, and exploded within the bowels. After this destructive explosion the elephant rested in an destructive explosion the elephant rested in an upright position, then made some motions; but did not attempt to rend his shackles. It lasted some minutes, until the internal hemorrhage choked the animal. Then he fell, his agony lasting sometime. Four large tubs were filled with blood, and yet some little time elapsed before he ceased to breathe. The next day it was Castor's turn, who was killed by Milne Edwards by means of a hunting carbine. Hit on the right temple, the elephant went down on his knees with a mouning cry. As he tried to raise himself another ball hit him in the middle of the forebead. Again he went down, and then, as it struck by a thunderbolt, he rolled on to his right side. His proboscis moved slightly; his beautiful expressive eyes closed—he was dead. The victims were seized by Deboo's folks, and stripped of their horny skins, which sell for 4,000 francs each. The rosy flesh seemed to be extremely tender, and looked like yeal. Castor and Pollux, though only aix years of age, were of enormous size. The colossal pieces of their flesh were soon paraded on the shambles of the Boulevard Haussmann, among cossowaries, kangaroos and antelopes from the Zoological Gardens. So the menagerie was complete; but the elephants were the lions of the day.

A WOMAN SHOT FROM A BOTTLE. -On last Tuesday evening a number of our citizens were startled by what they supposed to be the report of a gun, fired on the premises of Mr. Royall. Upon entering the servant house they found a negro woman almost frightened out of her life and apparently shot. The tale was soon told and believed-the woman was, undoubtedly, shot by some scamp, perhaps one of John Pool's' bloody K. K. K's, and pickets were promptly sent out to overtake the fugitive Ku-Klux, while others were busily engaged in searching the walls of the building for the hole through which the supposed leaden missiles could have entered, at the same time deploring and denouncing the "outrage." But the mys-tery was soon removed and John Pool, Holden & Co., are for one cheated out of a "bloody Ku-Klux outery." It appears that the woman had been using an old bottle which she had found about the house, for a candle stick; the bottle contained powder, but this was unknown to her; the powder was brought in "too close contact" with the fire and the explosion tollowed. The woman is not very seriously hurt al-though hadly pricked by the glass fragments. Goldsboro Messenger.

7-30 GOLD LOAN Northern Pacific Railroad Co.

RAPID PROGRESS OF THE WORK.

The building of the Northern Pacific Railroad (begun July last) is being pushed forward with great energy from both extremities of the line. Several thousand men are employed in Minnesota and on the Pacific coast. The grade is nearly completed 266 miles westward from Lake Superior; trains are running over 130 miles of finished road, and track-laying is rapidly progressing toward the eastern border of Dakota.—Including its purchase of the St. Paul & Pacific Road, the Northern Pacific Company now has 418 miles of completed road, and by September next this will be increased to at least 560.

A GOOD INVESTMENT.—Jay Cooke & Co. are now selling, and unhestatingly recommend, as a Profitable and perfectly Safe investment, the First Mortgage Land Grant Gold Bonds of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company. They have 30 years to run, bear Seven

UNSETTLED WAR CLAIMS. AT ITS LAST SESSION CONGRESS, AS an amendment to the army appropriation bill, directed the President to appoint a commission to ascertain and adjust the claims of all loyal citizens in the South for Quartermaster and Commissary supplies furnished to the United States during the war. Under the head of quar-termaster are included hay, straw, wood, rent of houses and lots, grain, horses and mules, &c.—
As commissary stores are included cattle and hogs, flour, corn meat, &c. As yet the rules which will be adopted by the commission concerning proof of loyalty and the furnishing of supplies are unknown. It is very necessary, however, that all claimants should have their claims presented at once, so as to have whatever benefit may result from priority of application. benefit may result from priority of application,

CHARLES WHITTLESEY, UNITED STATES COMMISSIONER, ATTORNEY AND COUNSELLOR IN BANKRUPTCY.

Congress having just amended the Bankrupt law so that nearly all parties can be discharged from their debts unobstructed by the lifty per cent. clause, so-called, another opportunity offers to secure the benefits of this most effective and permanent measure of relief. The above-named will make hardward basis. will make bankrupt business a specialty; will procure discharges on the most moderate terms, and transact all business in that line at prices which cannot fail to be satisfactory. Being Uni-ted States Commissioner he will endeavor to visit the different counties on court days, and thus save parties the trouble and expense of several trips to Alexandria in beginning and proceeding with their cases. Discharges can be obtained here before Register Hill as promptly as in Richmond or elsewhere, and at much less expense to parties. It may be added that the Bankrupt act, in connection with the Homestead exemption, which it is now believed will be secured to the bankrupt under the bankrupt law, is the only real relief now offered to parties struggling in the hopeless bondage of old debts. These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by the early habits of youth, viz: Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head, Dimness of Sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the Digestive Func-tions, General Debility, Symptoms of Consump-

MENTALLY. - The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded. Loss of Memory, Confusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirits, Evil Fore-bodings, Aversion to Society, Self Distrust, Love of Solitude, Timidity, &c., are some of the evils produced.

Thousands of persons of all agescan now judge what is the cause of their declining health, losing their vigor, becoming weak, pale, nervous and emaciated, having a singular appearance about the eyes, cough and symptoms of Consumption.

Who have injured themselves by a certain practice, already described, a habit frequently learned from evil companions or at school, the effects of which are nightly felt, even when asleep, and if not cured, renders marriage impossible, and destroys both mind and body, should apply immediately.

What a pity that a young man, the hope of his country, the pride of his parents, should be snatched from all prospects and enjoyment of life by the consequence of deviating from the path of nature, and indulging in pernicious habits. Such persons must, before contemplating MARRIAGE. Reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote connubial happiness, Indeed, without these the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage, the prospect hourly darkens to the view, the mind becomes shadowed with despair, and filled with

When the misguided and imprudent votary o pleasure finds that he has imbibed the seeds of this painful disease, it too often happens that an ill-time sense of shame or dread of discovery deters him from applying to those who, from education and respectability, can alone befriend him. delaying till the constitutional symptoms of this horrid disease makes their appearance, such as ulcerated sore throat, diseased nose, nocturnal pains in the head and limbs, dimness of sight, deafness, nodes on the shin bones and arms, blotches on the head, face and extremities, progressing with frightful rapidity, till at last the palate of the mouth or the bones of the nose fall in, and the victim of this awful disease becomes a horrid object of commisseration till death puts a period to his dreadful suffering, by sending him to that undiscovered country from whence no traveller returns."

It is a inclancholy fact that thousands DIE victims to this terrible disease, through falling into the hands of ignorant or unskilful PRETENDERS, who, by the use of that deadly Poison, Mercury, &c., destroy the consistation, and ineapable of curing, keep the unhappy sufferer month after month taking their noxious o injurious compounds, and instead of being restored to a renewal of Life, Vigorand Happiness in despair leave him with runed Health to sigh over his galling disappointment. over his galling disappointment.
